Which flag does he want?

Older brother: Why do you have so many flags?

Younger brother: I like to collect them. I like the colors of them, too.

Older brother: Which flags do you have?

Younger brother: Let's see... I have the Saudi Arabian flag. It is green.

Older brother: I see another green flag with blue in the middle. What is that?

Younger brother: That is the Brazilian flag.

Older brother: And, I see a blue and yellow flag. Which flag is it?

Younger brother: That flag is Swedish. I like this one—white with a red circle in the middle.

Older brother: Oh, that's the Japanese flag, isn't it?

Younger brother: Yes, it is the Japanese flag. Do you like this one?

Older brother: I like the green and white stripes. Which flag is that?

Younger brother: It is Nigerian.

Older brother: You have so many flags!

Younger brother: Yes, but I really want an Indian flag. That will be my next flag.
