

For the Teacher:

Good Friends Listening Task

Functional Language Students will need	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● What are you doing?● Why do you say that?● Really?● Wow.● Oh, great!● Well...
Vocabulary Students will need	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● vocabulary of friendship: friend, friendship, good, great, kind, kindness, thoughtful, funny, laugh, laughter, honest, honesty, lie, truth, hurt, apologize, apology, telling the truth● vocabulary of writing: write, essay, idea, describe
Grammar Students will need	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Word families—adjectives and nouns: honest and honesty truthful and truth kind and kindness

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Word families—verbs and nouns: laugh and laughter apologize and apology
Assessment Teachers can check for success by	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Ask students, “What makes a good friend?” and “What is Mary doing?” and “How much of the Earth is made up of water?” and “What is one thing that a good friend does not do?” ● Have students use as much information as they can from the audio to talk about what they think makes a good friend.

Relationships | Good Friends

What makes a good friend?

Elizabeth: Mary, what are you doing?

Mary: Oh, hi, Elizabeth. Well... I am writing an essay.

Elizabeth: What is the essay about?

Mary: It's about good friends. But... I don't have any ideas.

Elizabeth: Well... you should have ideas because YOU are a good friend!

Mary: Really? Why do you say that?

Elizabeth: Well... you are always kind. You do thoughtful things for your friends. And... you are funny. You make me laugh when we are together. Laughter is so important. And... you are honest. I know when you say something that you are telling the truth. You don't lie to me.

Mary: Oh, Elizabeth... wow. Thank you!

Elizabeth: Well, it is true. And... maybe the most important one is that when you do something that hurts me, you always apologize. Apologizing is important in friendship.

Mary: So... what makes a good friend is... kindness... laughter... honesty... and apologies... I can write my essay now! These are very important for good friendships. And... Elizabeth...?

Elizabeth: Yes?

Mary: This describes you, too. You are a good friend, too.

Elizabeth: Oh, great! Two GREAT friends!

What makes a good friend?